

Sunday May 14, 2017 12:01 AM

Reading Eagle

Sportswriters' notebook: May 14, 2017

Rising programs

It was nice to see teams from Reading High and Conrad Weiser in the Berks Boys Tennis League playoffs.

Reading High finished 12-4, losing 3-2 to Wyomissing in the semifinals. Weiser was 12-5, falling to eventual champion Wilson 4-1 in the semis, then to Wyomissing 3-2 in a District 3 Class 2A quarterfinal.

Slowly making their way up the standings the past few seasons, the Red Knights also made the playoffs last year.

The two teams are obviously the beneficiary of local programs within their school districts - COR (City of Reading) and CWTA (Conrad Weiser Tennis Association).

Both have been recognized by the United States Tennis Association and provide instruction and programs for individuals in their communities and throughout Berks County.

- Jamie Yousaitis